

Raise your voice for nature!

28-29 March 2020

We hereby invite you to the Nordic Youth Biodiversity Summit in Copenhagen. Sign up as soon as possible to save your seat and to apply to have your travel costs covered!

The aim of the Summit is to agree on demands to put to world leaders when they meet this autumn to solve the biodiversity crisis.

The 2020 UN Biodiversity Conference in Kunming, China, will be a critical moment for decisions about biodiversity and ecosystems.

A group of Nordic young people will be at the negotiating table addressing the demands made by young citizens from the region.

So join us in Copenhagen 28-29 March and let the negotiators know what their priorities should be!

The Summit is prepared by group of dedicated Nordic youth. We aim at 200 participants aged 18-26, fairly spread between the different countries.

The programme will be published early in March.

Where: UN City Copenhagen

When: Apply by 1 March
